

I would like the FCC leave state law alone! This is in reference to the State of Indiana's no-call law.

I now can actually answer the phone when it rings, since now I get only 1 or 2 unsolicited telemarketing call a week. I might add that the phone never rings at meal time. I do not rely on the answering machine anymore.

The Indiana no-call law works. Please do not make a proposal that will lessen the strength of it.

Thank you.
